RAN AWAY BECAUSE OF TOO MANY GIRLS AT YOUNGSTER PARTY

CHICAGO April 4—Little Chatterbox, a four year old boy whose name is Martin was taken to the West Chicago avenue station last night by Policeman Volgartz. He was gazing wonderingly around at West Chicago and Ashland avenues when he noticed the policeman's smile of amusement.

"Say are you a policeman?" he asked. "Well I guess I must." When taken to the station he could not tell his name. "Mamma calls me Little Chatterbox," and I guess that's my name. My Dad calls me Kid." He says I've got to be a girl, so I talk so much."

"I was it a part," he said in telling how he came to get lost, and there were too many girls so I ran away.

WOMAN BURNS IN BIG FIRE; SUSPECTED BY POLICE

She Is Removed to Hospital Badly Seared and Is Under Guard.

SAN FRANCISCO April 4—Severe burns were suffered by a woman who apparently only beat her in an effort to keep the amount of $300. Mr. Mary F. Flanagan, a constable of the 4th Precinct, and Sergeant Dowd, of the 1st and 2nd Squadrants, made the arrest yesterday.

When the two officers arrested the woman they found her lying on the floor in a bright room. She was wearing a white dress.

NOTICED FLASH OF FLAME

Mr. J. C. Devlin, morning Officer

White, of the 1st Precinct, who had been taking a walk in the neighborhood of the 4th Precinct, turned in his report to the 1st Precinct, San Francisco, State, and in the course of his narrative of his walk in the building where the woman had been lying on the floor, he mentioned the incident in which he had seen a woman lying on the floor in the doorway of the building, and which he had thought was the cause of the fire.

At this time he had not noticed the fact that the woman was lying on the floor.

At the time of the fire, the fact that the woman was lying on the floor was not observed by the officers, but it was noted by the constable.

WOMAN BADLY BURNED

Mrs. Harper was found sitting in a chair in the room where she had been taken from the safe.

A bridge between the two rooms where the woman was found was broken, and the door leading to the room where the woman was found was open.

The door was closed, and the woman was found lying on the floor.

She was badly burned, and the burns were very severe.

She was removed to the hospital.

MERGER ACTIONS NEARING THE END

The Union Pacific Case Will Probably Close at Tuesday Session.

DOG LED WAY TO SNOW BOUND MEN

Victims of Avalanche Are Rescued Through Aid of Canine.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The government's suit against the railroads and individuals will be dismissed for what is called the Union Pacific merger will draw near a close with tomorrow's session, when the government will call several witnesses in rebuttal. After those have testified the defense will probably call a few witnesses and then final briefs will be submitted, and the date for argument fixed.

The U. S. Pacific merger case was begun in 1907 by Fredrick G. Williamson, then attorney general. The parties have been engaged in litigation since the Pacific Steamship Company of New York, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, Salt Lake City, Portland, Ore., San Francisco, and Los Angeles.

MANY WITNESSES.

Two hundred witnesses have been heard, two hundred exhibits presented and the railroad testimony continues about the railroads' right to defend in their own behalf. The Union Pacific, Kansas City, the Oregon Short Line and Oregon Railway and Navigation company, the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad Company, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, the Northern Pacific, the Great Northern, the Northern Trans-Columbia, Texas, Southern, H. C. Frick and William A. Clark.

Big Storm Rages on The Great Salt Lake

SALT LAKE CITY, April 4.—Both the Western Pacific and the Southern Pacific are out of commission because of the heavy rains and snow and so were sent to help, except the Lake Valley last night. They were unable to bring supplies to the town. The storm has been continued.

The track on the east side of the lake cut off was washed out, but the tracks in a parallel direction to the west of the mountains said to be the Southern Pacific says that the damage will be repaired as quickly as possible, probably by April 10. The damage done to the old standard Pacific tracks.

The Western Pacific, however, and the one which was not damaged, will be repaired as soon as possible. The damage was washed out. As such, the damage is $75,000. The cost of the damage was well over $200,000. The supplies were washed out, but the tracks leading to the railroad was washed out for several miles.

Fifteen boats were damaged at the south west corner of the lake, and seven more were washed out. Sixty boats and barges were washed out with the lake, spending the night out in the lake.

Discovery Made That Gotham Is Artistic

NEW YORK, April 4.—Homeless during the flu epidemic, who is to be considered the most artistic person in America? The answer to that question is the man who discovered it. In New York is another in the list of the most artistic.

"Young business men today," he said, "are the leaders of the business and the most important in the world. They are the leaders of other organizations and other things and a leader of the great building structures. When they go to the city in admiring a building, they are the strongest people around in the world. They are the leaders of the world. They are the most artistic."

At first he was not satisfied with the free trial package, but as the results bring about the same result, he grows up a kind of admiration for the man who is most distinctive. A man who is not only a good man, but also a good man.

Two Owl Stores Opened Since Roosevelt Returned to Civilization

By comparison only can we correctly estimate the magnitude of some enormous undertaking. And only by the comparison of the trend of events can we really appreciate what has been accomplished. Take The Owl Drug Company, for instance. In 1901, when Roosevelt succeeded to the Presidential chair, The Owl Drug Company had only 7 stores and were located in only 1 State. In 1905, at the close of Roosevelt's term of office, we had 12 stores in 2 States. In 1910, even since Roosevelt emerged from the jungle, we have added 2 more branches, are located in 3 States and have 14 stores, double the number we had when he went into office. This shining example of progressiveness and strenuousness ought to please even the mighty, strenuous Roosevelt.

RIVAL CANDIDATES FOR CITY TREASURER ARE BOTH CRIPPLES

VENOMINE, Wyo., April 4.—The pending municipal election developing an interesting race for the office of City Treasurer of Venomine. The rival candidates both are crippled. Walter Haas, Republican, and Milt Clegg, Democrat.

Haas never has walked in his life, and his rival, Clegg, formerly City Clerk of Venomine, is hopelessly crippled.

Clegg declares he will manage his campaign in a sitting position. Haas, with arms to the sides, of course, moves about in a sitting position.

Horse Cars and Peanut Politics.

After all, the row in San Francisco over the horse cars on lower Market is a very simple matter. The United Railroads are willing to run the Sutter street electric cars down to the ferry over their own tracks, which are outside the tracks of the old Market street railway, but some of the newspapers and officials insist that the cars shall be run on the inside tracks, which, of course, would constitute an abandonment of the Sutter street franchise on Market street from Sansome street to the ferry.

The fight is to compel the United Railroads to run Sutter street cars to the foot of Market, under conditions which will be equivalent to a surrender of the Sutter street franchise. That explains the effort to compel the Calsoan corporation to run the Sutter cars to the ferry on the inside tracks and pull off the horse cars now running on the outer tracks. Naturally the United Railroads refuse to accept a condition which would give the Geary street opposition line a free run from Golden Gate Park to the ferry over lower Market street.

By law the number of tracks on Market street is limited to four, hence the Geary street line cannot reach the ferry unless the United Railroads can be forced to give up the Sutter street franchise on Market street. The Sutter Street Company has a franchise, which has twenty-one years yet to run, to run horse cars on Market street, but no legal right to operate electric cars on that thoroughfare. Hence passengers over the Sutter street line are compelled to transfer at the Sansome street junction. Not being permitted to run electric cars, the company is compelled to run the horse cars or give up its franchise.

For a time the Sutter street electric cars were run to the ferry over the outside tracks, but the Taylor administration stopped them from running, which caused the horse cars to be put back again. A constant war has ever since been kept up on the railway corporation for refusing to run the electric cars to the ferry on terms that would work a forfeiture of the franchise.

The horse cars are not only a nuisance, but the public is greatly inconvenienced by the enforced transferring at Sansome and Market, and a great outcry has gone up from the residents and business men in the district traversed by the Sutter street line for a resumption of through runs to the ferry. However, the claim was set up by the Spreckels-Phelan element in the city government that the Sutter street franchise on Market street had been forfeited by non-fulfillment of the conditions on which it was granted, but the contention is not urged with any show of confidence. But it is brought forward every time the Supervisors are asked to grant a temporary permit for the operation of the Sutter street electric cars to the ferry. A proposer is now before the board to grant a permit revocable by the city on thirty days' notice, but it is being resisted strenuously by those who will not assent to any arrangement that does not compel the company to surrender or abandon its franchise. The proposed permit reserves in express terms all the legal rights of the municipality, but of course it does not meet with the approval of those who are determined to make the United Railroads give up the Sutter street franchise that an opposition line may be run to the ferry. As the corporation shows no signs of yielding, the horse cars promise to be a feature of Market street for an indefinite period.

While the crowds waiting at Market and Sansome are fuming at the inconvenience and delay to which they are subjected, the dispute waxes long and loud in the newspapers and between officials who are playing politics with the issue. But it does seem strange that so much fuss should be made over granting a temporary permit which fully protects the city's rights and at the same time removes an eyesore and an obstacle to rapid transit. Public convenience is a secondary consideration, however, with too many people. Hence the public are compelled to put up with horse cars and unnecessary transfers while demagogues spar for political and personal advantage.

Mr. Roosevelt and the Pope.

Between Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Fairbanks and the Pope the Methodist Church in Rome is getting an immense amount of valuable free advertising, which will no doubt result in liberal contributions by American Protestants who will perceive it to be their Christian duty to give aid and comfort to the missionaries who are hearding the Roman Pontiff under the very walls of St. Peter's.

We shall have a deal of excited discussion over the intimation which caused Mr. Roosevelt to alter his plan of having an audience with the Pope. Coming so soon after Mr. Fairbanks' experience in a similar enterprise, the Roosevelt incident will naturally provoke widespread discussion. Unfortunately the matter will be viewed by many from the standpoint of religious feeling—not to say sectarian prejudice—rather than dispassionate judgment.

Mr. Roosevelt's attitude in the matter is eminently the correct one; the views he expresses are wise and temperate and entirely consistent with his position as ex-President of the United States and at the same time a respectful attitude toward the head of the Catholic Church. He had not planned to deliver an address in the Methodist Church at Rome nor to visit that edifice, so far as we know, but a man who had held such an exalted station as Mr. Roosevelt had occupied as the official head of the greatest nation on the globe could not permit anything like a limitation being placed on his freedom of action.

Careful Merry Del Val's reference to the Fairbanks incident was an intimation in diplomatic terms that by accepting audience with the Supreme Pontiff he would be engaged not to appear at the Methodist Church in Rome. Mr. Roosevelt could not afford to accept such a condition. While he acknowledges the right of the Pope to fix the conditions on which he will receive visitors, he claimed an equal right to accept or reject the conditions.

In this instance the condition, while reasonable from the Vatican standpoint, was impossible to Mr. Roosevelt in view of his past and present position before the world and the American people. Himself a Protestant he couldn't let it be said that he had foregone his right to visit an American Protestant Church as the price of an audience with the head of the Catholic hierarchy.

If his countrymen would look at the matter in the plain, reasonable light that Mr. Roosevelt views it, the incident would pass with little noise. But, unfortunately, there still lingers a nervous fear of the Papacy in a large section of the American people; and then the flip-flop spirit of patricianism is not going to miss this glorious opportunity for vindicating the flag, the constitution and the principles of liberty. We are sure to hear a great noise.

Yet after all, the matter is quite simple. Mr. Roosevelt desired an audience with the Pope, whom he greatly respects. The Pope, who greatly respects Mr. Roosevelt, felt that he could not be officially head of the Catholic Church, consistently grant an interview if the ex-President proposed to attend a church engaged in proselytizing among Catholics in the chief seat of the Catholic religion. Mr. Roosevelt respected the condition but declined very properly to accede to it. Hence Mr. Roosevelt will not see the Pope.

Timely and Interesting Topics

Speaking of the "Art contest" which took place at the Metropole Theatre ball, in Berlin, the "Theater Zeitung" says:

"A prize of 400 marks was offered for the handsomest and most attractive, and one can imagine what an abundance of creations were displayed and how much money was expended in the effort to secure the jury's seal of approval on this unequalled reward. Everything had to be beautiful, of course, and a hat, to be even so beautiful, must be in keeping with the rest of the costume to give it a chance. The process of elimination brought disappointment to many well-known artists and professionals, for every hat displayed was by far the most beautiful in the eyes of the wearer. The prize finally went to Frau Edelstein, whose hat was a tremendous affair of the Gatzborough type, so completely covered with ostrich plumes that little of the hat proper was visible. The money prize probably covered only a small part of the cost of the gown and hat."

Miss Elizabeth Butler, well known as the writer of the stirring battle scene "The Red Gull," purchased by Queen Victoria's Library, while bringing up Scotland, showed a wide range of the State's scenes and many other literary subjects has published a book, "The Sketch Book and Diary of Miss Elizabeth Butler," which takes her reader to Ireland, to the east of South Africa and to Italy.

PERFUMED FLOWERS AS HAT TRIMMING

A new fashion has been introduced in the art and delight of women this spring. This is the trimming of the spring hats with perfumed flowers. Each flower is selected with its own particular fragrance, some being like flesh odors, others like perfume. The idea is to be by stitching a bunch of flowers to the hat, leaving the desired extract of the leaves of the hat to give out a strong odor when wearing this. Some ladies like to wear them conservatively. Some women go to the length of sleeping in them even when they are in boxes in the morning.

ELOPING UP TO DATE

The modern girls consider themselves the equals of their mothers and grandmothers.

The latest news purports to say that the young girls are more independent than ever before.

With a last final kiss, Mrs. James A. Stillman, dressed in a black dress and a black feathered hat, eloped with her sweetheart, Mr. Edward J. Galt, on Saturday evening.

The young couple left the city in a motor car.

They are to be married in New York.

FIERCE BATTLE FOUGHT WITH POLICE BY ROBBERS

Hand to Hand Struggle Ends in Arrest of Two Noted Cracksmen.

ARE CAUGHT BLOWING UP SAFE IN ATHENIAN CLUB

Explosion Creates Great Havoc and Much Noise Despite Muffling.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Following a desperate hand to hand battle with the police, and after an exchange of shots which had succeeded a rambling through the streets in the south of Market section of the city, two burglars, Thomas Ryan and Leslie Smith, were captured shortly after 6 o'clock this morning, with the evidence of their crime still in their possession.

Policemen Scollin, Cullinan and Nolan were in the neighborhood of the Athenian Club, 152 Third street, when they heard an explosion almost as loud as the roar of a cannon, which was followed by the shattering of glass in a nearby building, and which threatened to wreck the sidewalk in front of the club.

As the officers ran hurriedly in the direction of the sound, the two burglars fled, ran hastily in the direction of Henley street, zigzagging through that neighborhood, and into a lodging house, closely pursued by the trio of policemen. Officer Scollin went to the rear, Cullinan followed into the building and Nolan remained in front.

FIGHT PISTOL DUEL.

The culprits, however, were thoroughly frightened, and running to the back of the house jumped from a window onto the roof. As they did so Scollin there fired on him and he returned the shots with good measure, and a little to spare, causing them to retreat again into the building. They separated and Ryan ran upstairs and concealed himself between a chimney and a fire escape, where he hid with drawn revolver, threatening to kill Policeman Cullinan who approached to arrest him.

A sharp struggle followed, but Ryan's gun was quickly wrested from him and the "riff-raff" were placed on his wrists. Smith was caught by Nolan as he was leaving down the rear door, and the culprits, still firing at the sound of the shots and the noise through the hole, fled, running fast, through the building, were rising fast, skinned to the pants, apparel.

On Ryan was found $275.75 which had been taken from him, as well as a .38-calibre revolver. A sledge, an iron bar and three punches were also booked against him. Smith had a big .45-calibre gun, which was held as evidence against him.

SAFE WAS MUZZLED.

A team to the Athenian Club showed that it was destroyed by the explosion, and it is evident that the culprits had been opening the safe and had hidden it under the sidewalk muffle.

At length the police arrested several times, but the inspection and held in detention for days at the city prison, Smith denies that he does not know him, that he never saw him before, and claims that his arrest is the result of "the chancery in the lodging house."

The police believe the man to be responsible for numerous similar jobs in the vicinity, and consider the capture a most important one.

Will Rear Tenement As Church Memorial

NEW YORK, April 4.—Members of St. George's Episcopal church, for whom who have been casting about for a consistent memorial to set in honor of the one hundred anniversary of the founding of the church, which will be celebrated in November, have voted against the erection of an ordinary monument and have decided instead to build a model tenement to be administered as part of the charitable work of the church.

RAN AWAY BECAUSE OF TOO MANY GIRLS AT YOUNGSTER PARTY

CHICAGO, April 4.—"Little Chatterbox," a four-year-old lost boy whose name is Martin, was taken to the West Chicago avenue station last night by Policeman Volzquez. He was gazing wonderingly around at West Chicago and Ashland avenues when he noticed the policeman's smile of amusement.

"Say, are you a policeman?" he asked. "Well, I guess I'm lost."

When asked if he could not tell his name, "Mamma calls me little Chatterbox, and I guess that's my name. My Dad calls me Kid." He says I've got to be a girl because I talk so much."

"I was at a party," he said in telling how he came to get lost, "and there were too many girls, so I ran away."

WOMAN BURNS IN BIG FIRE; SUSPECTED BY POLICE

She Is Removed to Hospital Badly Seared and Is Under Guard.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Severely and perhaps fatally burned by a fire which the police confidently believed she herself kindled in an effort to collect insurance to the amount of $3,600, Mrs. Mary F. Harper is confined to her room, closely guarded by a patrolman while Fire Marshal Towe and Detectives Graham and Givens are making further investigation.

Meanwhile, the seventy lodgers in the Hibernia Hotel, 1264 Howard street, are congratulating themselves on their escape from almost certain death in a cauldron of flames brought about by the prompt discovery of Policeman J. J. Wall.

NOTICED FLASH OF FLAME.

At 2:30 o'clock this morning Officer Wall noticed the flash of flames coming from the lodging house, of which Mrs. Harper is the proprietress, and running to the corner he turned in an alarm from box 78. The department responded immediately and an investigation showed a quantity of coal oil sprinkled on the bedding, along the floor and on the walls of rooms 19, 22 and 23. The flames had gained some headway and the inmates, aroused by the changing envelope, fled the smoke, which began to rise through the narrow chimney, were thrown in a panic, ran in every direction in their night apparel, believing that the building would be consumed.

The position of the fire and the fact that it could be fought openly was in favor of the efforts of the department to subdue it and it was quenched with nominal loss.

WOMAN BADLY BURNED.

Mrs. Harper was found by Police Officer Wall seriously burned, her flesh being seared and scarred on the right arm, left leg and foot, and her face being blistered. The investigation by Fire Marshal Towe leads him to the belief that the woman received her injuries in the flare of the coal oil after the match had been applied.

An investigation showed that she started insurance to the amount of $3,600. When the police were consulted of her interest in seeing the building destroyed and considered the suspicious circumstance of the case, an officer was detailed to guard her as she lay confined to her bed and for the present too ill even to be removed to a hospital.

RISKED SEVENTY LIVES.

If Mrs. Harper did set fire to her establishment she placed in jeopardy the lives of the seventy occupants, some of whom undoubtedly would have been burned in the scramble for safety. Had Policeman Wall been a few moments later in discovering the fire the building probably would have been burned to the ground with the accompaniment of certain loss of life.

AIDED HOLDUP AS AN APRIL FOOL JOKE FOR $30

Accomplice of Howell Breaks Down and Confesses to the Police.

SAYS BARBER TOLD HIM VICTIMS WERE FRIENDS

Wife of Accused Cinches Master by Denouncing the Cringing Man.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—In a broken voice and with tears in his eyes, protesting that he had taken part in an amateurish prank with the idea that it was an April Fool joke, Walter Anderson, arrested yesterday by Sergeant Stephen Bunner, on suspicion of being the accomplice of Lee Horrell in the holding up and ransacking of the home of Dr. Thomas Gleason, 1049 Dolores street, this morning broke down and confessed to the police.

Incidentally his admission of participation in the crime brought forth from Mrs. Horrell, wife of his accomplice, the bitterest condemnation which clearly implicates her husband and indicates his connection with the offense despite his absolute silence and apparent feeling of indifference toward the whole affair.

ACCOMPlice CONFESSES.

Surrounded by detectives, newspapermen and his three victims in the detective room at police headquarters, with Sergeant Bunner acting as questioner, Anderson broke down and made his confession.

"Yes, I guess I might as well say it. I did it," he asserted, "but mind you I didn't have any criminal intent. I understood it was all a joke and was only intended as an April Fool game. I went to Horrell's barber shop and asked for a job. He told me I was just the man he wanted and offered to give me $30 to take part in the affair. He explained that the persons we were friends of and he only wanted to play a trick on them."

"I was to go first and find out how the land lay, and then we were to go back in the afternoon and carry out the job. He told me we would only take money and jewelry and not touch the silver plate, and then later he would return the articles."

WIFE GIVES IT AWAY.

During the recital of this tale Mrs. Horrell began twitching her fingers nervously, looks of pain crossing her face, and her eyes alternately slitting from Bunner to that of the cringing man telling the story of a daring crime.

At length Mrs. Horrell could stand the strain no longer and blurted forth at her husband's accuser:

"You lie," she yelled. "You know that's not the truth. Why, you planned the whole thing. You told my husband how it could be carried off. It was all your fault, and you know it."

Thus was the husband's silence broken by his own wife, and although he had uttered not a word since his arrest his complicity was officially established.

DESIRES HOLD-UP.

Then did Anderson continue describing the incidents that occurred within the Gleason household, the binding and gagging of the inmates, the forcing them upstairs and compelling them to hand over their valuables, and all the little details of the crime which would have been impossible to have learned save through an accomplice in it.

At this point Horrell was brought round and the two confronted each other, the barber standing above Anderson as he told the rest of his story.

Previous to the confession, when Miss Anita Gleason reached police headquarters with Anderson, she said, "You're the brutal footpad who came to my door and asked for Mr. Harris, and don't you deny it."

DID IT FOR $30.

This accusation caused the arrested man to weaken for the first time, and he repeated, "I don't deny it; I did it for $30."

It was then that the other victim and the police congregated around him and he repeated the entire story.

It is understood that while making no admission of actual complicity in the consideration

Correspondence Between Leishman and Roosevelt

The history of the negotiations which resulted in Colonel Roosevelt's decision to forego an audience with Pope Pius is briefly told in the following correspondence between the former President and Ambassador Leishman:

Leishman to Roosevelt

ROME, March 23.—Monsignor Kennedy, rector of the American Catholic College, in reply to inquiry which I caused to be made, requests the following communication be transmitted to you: "The Holy Father will be delighted to grant an audience to Mr. Roosevelt on April 5, and hopes that nothing will arise to prevent it, such as the much regretted incident which made the reception of Mr. Fairbanks impossible."

Roosevelt to Leishman

Replies by cable to Ambassador Leishman. Mr. Roosevelt sent the following by cable:

CAIRO, March 25.—Please present the following to Monsignor Kennedy: "It would be a real pleasure to me to be presented to the Holy Father, for whom I entertain high respect, both personally and as the head of a great church. I fully recognize his entire right to receive or not receive whomsoever he chooses, for any reason that seems good to him, and if he does not receive me I shall not for a moment question the propriety of his action. On the other hand, I, in my turn, decline to make any stipulations or submit to any conditions which in any way would limit my freedom of conduct. I trust, on April 5, he will find it convenient to receive me."

Leishman to Roosevelt

To this message Mr. Leishman sent the following reply by cable:

ROME, March 28.—The audience cannot take place except on the understanding expressed in the former message.

Roosevelt to Leishman

Immediately on the receipt of this message Mr. Roosevelt sent the following to the ambassador:

CAIRO, March 29.—The proposed presentation is, of course, now impossible.

Mobs Attack Peruvian Legation in Ecuador

Hated Colors Are Dragged in Dust and Rioters Demand War with Peru.

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, April 4.—Serious anti-Peruvian riots occurred during the night. Mobs attacked the Peruvian legation, a Quito and the consulate here, tearing the Peruvian colors and dragging them in the dust.

Many Peruvians were assaulted and property to the value of $20,000 destroyed. The rioters demanded war with Peru two weeks from today.

Devlin Wins His Case In Senate Committee

Judiciary Body Rescinds Vote to Reject Nomination of California Attorney.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The Senate committee on judiciary today rescinded its vote to reject the nomination of Robert T. Devlin to succeed himself as United States attorney for the northern district of California.

This action was taken in order to give the sub-committee, which has had the case, an opportunity to examine a brief filed by counsel for Dr. E. B. Persin, who is contesting Devlin's confirmation.

Devlin having been given a hearing during the last week, it is now expected a hearing will be given to Dr. Persin.

Elliott Nominated For U. S. Marshal

Taft Submits Name of Appointee for Northern District of California.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Nomination sent by President Taft today to the Senate included the following:

To be United States marshal—Chas. T. Elliott, northern district of California.

To be assistant justice of the Supreme Court of New Mexico—Edmund C. Abbott of New Mexico.

To be rear admiral—Captains Chauncey Thomas and William A. Marshall.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Fires Shots After Fleeing Burglar

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Started by the sound of someone moving around in his house at a late hour last night, Lloyd Huff, a salesman, residing at 2203 Webster street, opened his room door, and discovered a burglar running down the stairs. He pursued him for a moment and then thinking of his revolver, returned to get it. As he did so he heard the intruder raise a window, and when the latter attempted to get out that way he was greeted with a shot which struck the sill, but missed the man.

The culprit then ran back to the rear stairs, into the yard and jumped over a fence. Huff emptying his revolver at him, but not striking him. An inventory showed that two gold pins, valued at $12.50, had been taken.

FORMER PRESIDENT DEMANDS FREEDOM IN MAKING PLANS

Vatican Insisted Distinguished Visitor Should Not Address Methodists or Be Refused an Audience With Pius X

ROME, April 4.—The determination of Mr. Roosevelt to forego an audience with Pope Pius X, rather than subscribe to the conditions imposed by the Vatican, has created a sensation. This unfortunate and unexpected incident overshadows every other feature of the distinguished American's visit to the eternal city.

Mr. Roosevelt sought an audience with the Pontiff through American Ambassador Leishman and received a reply that the Holy Father would be delighted to receive him, but the answer was coupled with an expression of the hope that the audience would not be prevented by such a regrettable incident as made an audience from former Vice-President Fairbanks impossible.

Declines to Visit Vatican

Mr. Roosevelt in turn stated that he could not accept any stipulation limiting his freedom of conduct. To the latter message the Vatican made answer that the audience could not take place except on the understanding first made known. On March 29 Mr. Roosevelt sent to Ambassador Leishman the following cablegram:

"Proposed presentation is, of course, now impossible."

Mr. Roosevelt insists that the incident be treated as purely personal and earnestly hopes it will give no rise to bitterness. He regrets the action of the Vatican, but feels that as a free American citizen he cannot consistently take any action that might be construed as involving a limitation of the freedom of his personal conduct.

Has Made No Engagements

He had made no engagement to address the Methodists or other religious bodies of Rome, but at the same time he thinks he should not make promises as to what he will or will not do.

It would appear today that so far as the Vatican and Mr. Roosevelt are concerned the incident is closed.

The news that the former President had abandoned his proposed visit to the Vatican reached the morning papers very late, but made a very deep impression. The Messagero, an anti-clerical organ, alone comments editorially. This paper says:

Criticizes Pope's Advisers

"When the news was spread it was received with incredulity, mainly regarding it as a malicious fabrication of the enemies of the Catholic Church, but when confirmed it produced comment disastrous to the Vatican. Men of every religion daily visit the Pope without first giving the itinerary of the churches which they intend to visit. Why should the Vatican require Mr. Roosevelt to ignore the churches of his own religion during his short stay in Rome? The incident will not add to the diplomatic fame of the Pope's advisers.

"Mr. Roosevelt as the head of the great American republic, followed the principle enunciated by Premier Luzzati for a free church under a sovereign."

The Messagero places the responsibility for what it terms a "blunder" on the Pope's entourage, continuing:

Could Not Renounce Liberty

"For it was a blunder to ask a certificate of acceptability from a man illustrious everywhere for his intelligence and the nobleness of

Horse Cars and Peanut Politics.

After all, the row in San Francisco over the horse cars on lower Market is a very simple matter. The United Railroads are willing to run the Sutter street electric cars down to the ferry over their own tracks, which are outside the tracks of the old Market street railway, but some of the newspapers and officials insist that the cars shall be run on the inside tracks, which, of course, would constitute an abandonment of the Sutter street franchise on Market street from Sansome street to the ferry.

The fight is to compel the United Railroads to run Sutter street cars to the foot of Market under conditions which will be equivalent to a surrender of the Sutter street franchise. That explains the effort to compel the Calhoun corporation to run the Sutter cars to the ferry on the inside tracks and pull off the horse cars now running on the outer tracks. Naturally the United Railroads refuse to accept a condition which would give the Geary street opposition line a free run from Golden Gate Park to the ferry over lower Market street.

By law the number of tracks on Market street is limited to four, hence the Geary street line cannot reach the ferry unless the United Railroads can be forced to give up the Sutter street franchise on Market street. The Sutter Street Company has a franchise, which has twenty-one years yet to run, to run horse cars on Market street, but no legal right to operate electric cars on that thoroughfare. Hence passengers over the Sutter street line are compelled to transfer at the Sansome street junction. Not being permitted to run electric cars, the company is compelled to run the horse cars or give up its franchise.

For a time the Sutter street electric cars were run to the ferry over the outside tracks, but the Taylor administration stopped them from running, which caused the horse cars to be put back again. A constant war has ever since been kept up on the railway corporation for refusing to run the electric cars to the ferry on terms that would work a forfeiture of the franchise.

The horse cars are not only a nuisance, but the public is greatly inconvenienced by the enforced transferring at Sansome and Market, and a great outcry has gone up from the residents and business men in the district traversed by the Sutter street line for a resumption of through runs to the ferry. However, the claim was set up by the Spreckels-Phelan element in the city government that the Sutter street franchise on Market street had been forfeited by non-fulfillment of the conditions on which it was granted, but the contention is not urged with any show of confidence. But it is brought forward every time the Supervisors are asked to grant a temporary permit for the operation of the Sutter street electric cars to the ferry. A proposition is now before the board to grant a permit revocable by the city on thirty days' notice, but it is being resisted strenuously by those who will not assent to any arrangement that does not compel the company to surrender or abandon its franchise. The proposed permit reserves in express terms all the legal rights of the municipality, but of course it does not meet with the approval of those who are determined to make the United Railroads give up the Sutter street franchise that an opposition line may be run to the ferry. As the corporation shows no signs of yielding, the horse cars promise to be a feature of Market street for an indefinite period.

While the crowds waiting at Market and Sansome are fuming at the inconvenience and delay to which they are subjected, the dispute waxes long and loud in the newspapers and between officials who are playing politics with the issue. But it does seem strange that so much fuss should be made over granting a temporary permit which fully protects the city's rights and at the same time removes an eyesore and an obstacle to rapid transit. Public convenience is a secondary consideration, however, with too many people. Hence the public are compelled to put up with horse cars and unnecessary transfers while demagogues spar for political and personal advantage.

Mr. Roosevelt and the Pope.

Between Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Fairbanks and the Pope the Methodist Church in Rome is getting an immense amount of valuable free advertising, which will no doubt result in liberal contributions by American Protestants who will perceive it to be their Christian duty to give aid and comfort to the missionaries who are bearing the Roman Pontiff under the very walls of St. Peter's.

We shall have a deal of excited discussion over the intimation which caused Mr. Roosevelt to alter his plan of having an audience with the Pope. Coming so soon after Mr. Fairbanks' experience in a similar enterprise, the Roosevelt incident will naturally provoke widespread discussion. Unfortunately the matter will be viewed by many from the standpoint of religious feeling—not to say sectarian prejudice—rather than dispassionate judgment.

Mr. Roosevelt's attitude in the matter is eminently the correct one; the views he expresses are wise and temperate and entirely consistent with his position as ex-President of the United States and at the same time a respectful attitude toward the head of the Catholic Church. He had not planned to deliver an address in the Methodist Church at Rome nor to visit that edifice, so far as we know, but a man who had held such an exalted station as Mr. Roosevelt had occupied as the official head of the greatest nation on the globe could not permit anything like a limitation being placed on his freedom of action.

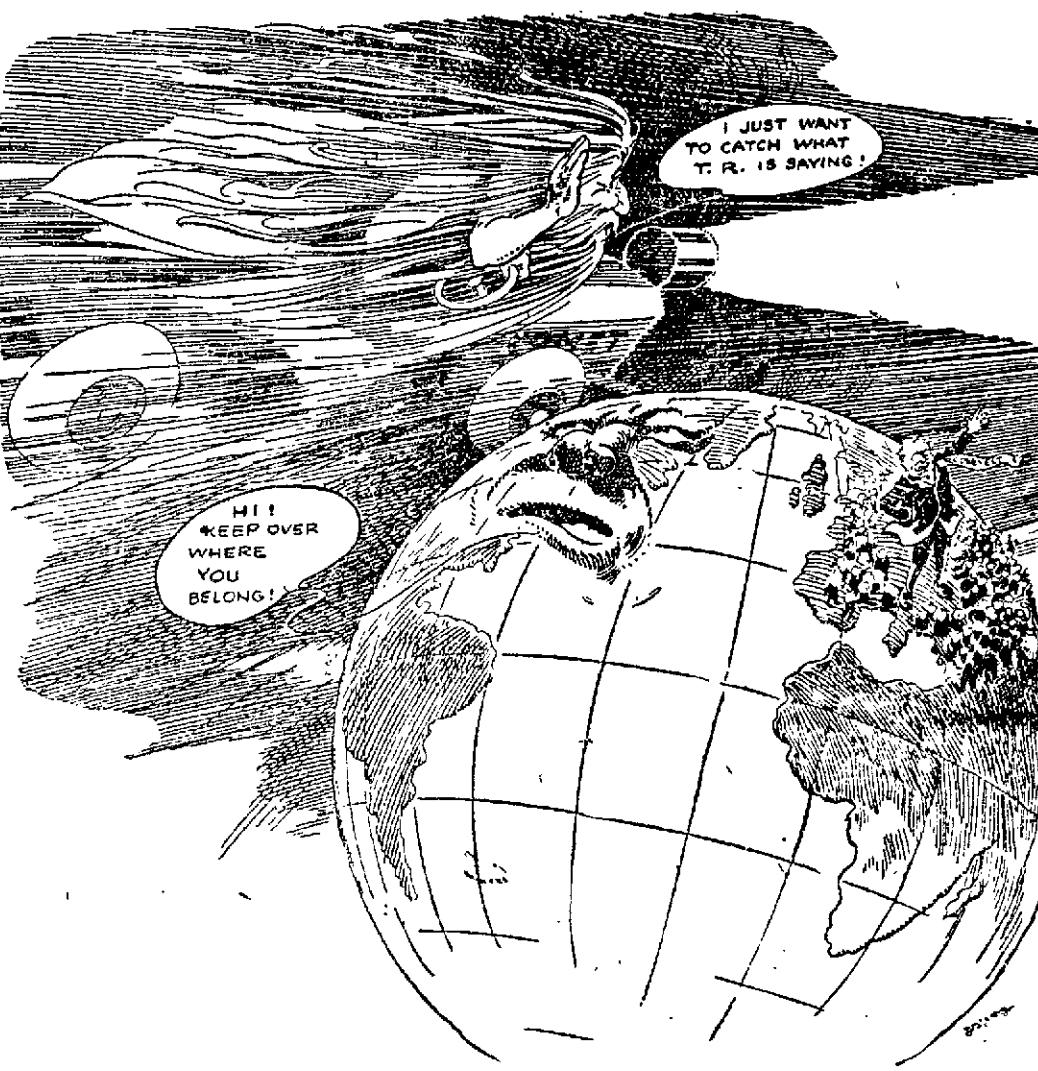

Cardinal Merry Del Val's reference to the Fairbanks incident was an intimation in diplomatic terms that by accepting audience with the Supreme Pontiff he would be engaged not to appear at the Methodist Church in Rome. Mr. Roosevelt could not afford to accept such a condition. While he acknowledges the right of the Pope to fix the conditions on which he will receive visitors, he claimed an equal right to accept or reject the conditions.

In this instance the condition, while reasonable from the Vatican standpoint, was inadmissible to Mr. Roosevelt in view of his past and present position before the world and the American people. Himself a Protestant he could not let it be said that he had foregone his right to visit an American Protestant Church as the price of an audience with the head of the Catholic hierarchy.

If his countrymen would look at the matter in the plain, reasonable light that Mr. Roosevelt views it, the incident would pass with little notice. But, unfortunately, there still lingers a nervous fear of the Papacy in a large section of the American people; and then the haphazard spirit of patriotism is not going to miss this glorious opportunity for vindicating the flag, the constitution and the principles of liberty. We are sure to hear a great noise.

Yet after all, the matter is quite simple. Mr. Roosevelt desired an audience with the Pope, whom he greatly respects. The Pope, who greatly respects Mr. Roosevelt, felt that he could not, as official head of the Catholic Church, consistently grant an interview if the ex-President proposed to attend a church engaged in proselytizing among Catholics in the chief seat of the Catholic religion. Mr. Roosevelt respected the condition but declined very properly to accede to it. Hence Mr. Roosevelt will not see the Pope.

Timely and Interesting Topics

Speaking of the hat contest which took place at the Metropole Theater ball, in Berlin, the "Theater Zeitung" says: "A prize of 400 marks was offered for the handsomest and most artistic hat and one can imagine what an abundance of creations were displayed and how much money was expended in the effort to secure the jury's seal of approval and its tangible reward. Everything had to harmonize, of course, and a hat, be it ever so beautiful, must be in keeping with the rest of the costume to give it a chance. The process of elimination brought disappointment to many milliners, amateur and professional, for every hat was by far the most beautiful in the opinion of the wearer. The prize finally went to Frau Lindstaedt, whose hat was a tremendous affair of the Brinsford type, so completely covered with ostrich plumes that little of the hat proper was visible. The money prize probably covered only a small part of the cost of the gown and hat, but what is money to a woman compared to a victory which carries with it the right to proclaim her hat the best?"

Noise is systematically fought in certain German towns. Dr. Auerbach, of Frankfort, has founded a Society of the Enemies of Noise, which numbers many adherents throughout Germany. The society issues a monthly organ of most soothing reading matter. One suggestion recently published was that hotelkeepers should keep a black list of noisy and ill-bred travelers—persons who habitually ignore voters who indulge in unnecessary and idiotic laughter, or who indulgently talk scandal. All hotelkeepers shall be supplied with a weekly copy, and thus, it is hoped, these individuals will find themselves barred from respectable establishments."

"With the late achievement of Professor Reinhold Begas before us," says a writer in a Berlin paper, "we can readily understand that age is not always a bar to activity and that the Oster theory is defective." Begas has just completed the model of a life-sized, partially draped female figure entitled "The Dancer." It shows a beautiful woman, pausing to rest after the dance. The work has been pronounced beautiful and highly artistic by sculptors, and they say that it will be still more so when seen in the marble, on which Albert Gericz is now engaged. Begas will be seventy-nine years old next July."

The income of $7,000 pounds, which, according to a recently issued treasury account, the Prince of Wales drew last year from the Duchy of Cornwall, was brought only 12,000 pounds. The returns mounted steadily throughout the reign until, in the last year of Queen Victoria's reign, there were nearly adherents throughout Germany. According to Consul General Jones, at Winnipeg, Canada is in great need of rat traps. Farmers in the grain belt are becoming anxious over the invasion of rodents from the United States, and are willing and able to pay a good price for a trap that will combine durability and efficiency. The rats are nearing Winnipeg, and attempts to check them by inoculation with a communicable virus have so far failed to stop their onward march.

Maslin Bread

Among many curious consequences of the general election one comic result is that rye bread, which played an important part in the political controversies, has become a favorite bland of the House of Commons. It is also, probably from curiosity, in frequent demand at most London restaurants. Rye, now seldom seen in England, was formerly grown a good deal in Lincolnshire, together with wheat and barley. From the combined flour of these three cereals was made the "maslin" bread, much appreciated by Tennyson's "Northern Farmer." The wheat gave strength, the barley sweetness, and the rye the quality of keeping moist for weeks. "Maslin," variously spelled, seems obviously the short for "miscellaneous."—Westminster Gazette

United States People Great Savers

Advocates of the postal-savings-bank bill that has passed the United States Senate and is now under consideration by the House committee have laid great stress on what they term the success of this system of savings banks in foreign countries, and the pending bill is modeled largely on the Canadian law, the argument is that if the system is a success in other countries it ought to be in this—no matter whether it is needed here or not—as if the United States should have and must have every "good thing" that is going around. But we do not need such a system here when we already have a savings bank system of another sort that is highly satisfactory? The average deposits in American savings banks, all of which are private institutions in no wise connected with the Federal government, is about four times as large as the average deposit for Europe, Asia, Africa, Oceania, Canada, and so on, and the average deposit per capita of the population is very nearly six times greater here in the United States than in the other areas of the world just mentioned. This doesn't look as if we are lacking in savings banks facilities or as if the people in this country need to be taught thrift through a borrowed system. It is significant, too, that of the $15,880,672,014 of savings-banks' deposits in the whole world $5,675,735,479 belongs to Americans—considerably more than one-third. These figures are from a recent compilation made from official reports

The Dining Car Tip

The recurrent question of the proper food. The duties of the dining car tip to waiters is revived by a high railroad official in his specific application to dining cars. He asserts that many of those who eat while traveling "have more money than brains," and will pay liberally, or even extravagantly, for service, despite any rules that the company might make. He criticizes as lacking in moral courage those who do not restrict their payment of a fee to 10 per cent of the bill, after the European custom, but reward the waiter more generously, rather than face a reproachful or disapproving gaze.

It may be suggested that the root of this evil is not so much moral cowardice as plain dishonesty. The traveler may be using his employer's money and is not so careful as he would be with his own purse. Moreover, it may be conceded upon second thought that a higher rate than 10 percent may be appropriate in dining cars. If the service be satisfactory, it is probable that the waiter is more skilled than a guest would find at a hotel charging equivalent prices for

Illiterates Are Useful

Dr. Elliot's suggestion that the time to apply an educational test to immigrants is not on their arrival, but, if ever, when they apply for their final naturalization papers, is an excellent one. Of course, the worst of the strangers who come to our somewhat too hospitable shore are not the illiterates, nor are they the least valuable additions to our population.

In not a few of the countries from which our immigrants sail, inability to read and write is no indication, as it usually is here, of mental deficiency. There it is simply the mark of the laboring classes, or at any rate their common misfortune, and the absence of elementary education, when it arises from lack of facilities to acquire it, is a fault comparatively trivial and easily remedied.

But when an immigrant lives in this country the number of years required as one qualification for citizenship and has not yet seen the need of the power to read and write, or is without the brains to acquire it, he might well be left in his voiceless state, for he is obviously incapable of taking an intelligent part in the government of the country.

Of course, every would-be citizen is now subject to an educational test, but it is usually of the most perfunctory sort and proves little as to actual literacy. A more rigid examination, covering more grounds than the reading, or pretended reading, of a few sentences, might well be made, and those who failed to pass it would be no loss to our ruling class.—New York Times.

DOUBLE CAPTURE END BURGLARIES

ROOSEVELT STILL FRIEND OF TAFT

Plans for Work of Year to Be Made By Committee.

With two men in the city jail and a fugitive the police believe that for a time the daring daylight burglaries which have been perpetrated throughout the city within the past two weeks will cease.

The two men in custody were caught by Policeman E. W. Brock at East Fourteenth street and Thirtieth avenue late Saturday; shortly after he had been notified of their activities by the police captain. Brock was told the descriptions of the men as given the police by Mrs. Angon Wilson, whose home at 136 Irving avenue was robbed Friday afternoon and Mrs. E. E. Evans of 1290 East Fourteenth street, where an attempt at burglary had been made on the same afternoon.

On approaching the three men, who fitted the description given, Brock frightened one of the mites running and he escaped. Another of the trio reached for his revolver, but the policeman was too quick for him and snapped the handcuffs on his wrists. A search revealed the fact that both of the men carried two revolvers. They gave their names as John Swanson and Joseph King and claim that they are only 18 years old. Captain of Detectives Peterson is inclined to doubt this.

JEWELRY IS STOLEN.

When the two men were taken to the police station a diamond ring, watch and chain and other jewelry were found in Swanson's shoes and were identified by Mrs. Wilson as her property.

Previous to burglarizing the Wilson home three men who answer the description of those whom Brock arrested attempted to enter the residence of Dr. Evans by cutting a hole in a rear door screen. Their attempt was foiled. Mrs. Evans, who was alone in the house, and when she made an investigation, the three made their escape. She gave them names and gave a good description to the police.

The trio are suspected by the police of burglary.

Home of Mrs. Frank J. Moffitt, widow Fibert streets silver ware and ostrich plumes; J. W. Pepper, 1638 Cedar street, clothing and jewelry valued at $200; Frank Davidson, 1450 West street, major articles; E. F. Childs, 305 East Twenty-first street, watch and jewelry valued at $200; and the burglaries of the Wilson and Evans homes.

Every effort is being made by the local police to locate the third man, but it is believed that he has left the city following the arrest of companions. His description has been sent broadcast.

Card Game in Honor Of Departing Guest

HAYWARD, April 4.—In honor of Mrs. W. H. Kelleys, who leaves for Manila on the 10th of this month, Mrs. G. F. Reynolds entertained a company of friends Friday night. Among the guests were Frank McDonald, and the great of honor carried off the first. Mrs. Kelley won the body prize while Mrs. McDonald took the consolation.

At the conclusion of the games a dinner was served by the host. The guests of the occasion were:

Mrs. L. B. Parsons, Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. A. S. Jones, Mrs. E. O. Webb, Mrs. J. F. Avery, Mrs. C. C. McLean, Mrs. M. M. McDonald, Mrs. F. T. Cooper, Mrs. W. E. Monk, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. S. G. Smith, Mrs. F. W. Browning, Mrs. P. C. Crowley, Mrs. M. W. Ferguson, Mrs. D. R. Ross, Mrs. J. C. Peacock, Mrs. F. C. Moore, Mrs. J. A. Park, Mrs. J. W. Littlefield, Hayward; Mrs. J. W. Pratt, San Mateo; Mrs. Morse, Oakland.

Y. M. C. A. Gets Ready For Basket Social

The Young Men's Christian Association will give a basket social April 12 at Maple Hall, 11 a.m., and a basketball game at 3 p.m. It will be conducted during the social meeting athletic sports will be contributed to the entertainment. Impromptu speeches will be delivered by the prominent members of the organization. An attempt in delegation of business men as well as members of the association. According to arrangements made today, 1000 invitations will be issued for the affair, and will mark the first social gathering of the year to be given under the auspices of the organization this spring.

A special committee consisting of H. D. McDonald, A. W. Fink, H. B. Reijer, C. Baumhart, and A. E. Caldwell is arranging the details for the entertainment.

PLUMP FOLKS AND THIN FOLKS

Samose Will Make People Fat. "Money Back if It Fails" Say Osgood Bros.

Reduction in Tariff May Give Cheap Butter

The line of beauty is a curve. Women may be thin and graceful, but not thin and beautiful. There is a vast number of pale, thin, scrawny people who are all brains and nerves but without the strength and health that accompanies the standard weight, blood, flesh and perfect health go together. A true flesh forming food like Samose is absolutely necessary to many people.

No one can use this wonderful flesh forming food for ten days without a noticeable gain in flesh and strength. Osgood Bros. have so much confidence in this remarkable flesh-forming food and health restorer that they are willing and glad to allow any customer to deposit $50 with them and take home a box of Samose with the understanding that if it does not give a marked increase in good firm flesh the money will be returned without any questions. Sent post paid on receipt of price, 50c.

Hayward Native Sons Elect Four Delegates

HAYWARD, April 4.—Eden Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden Gate, have elected the following delegates to represent the native sons in the meeting of the grand parlor at Lake Tahoe in June:

Past Presidents Frank C. Carr and Arthur Nadeau, Senator E. K. Strobridge and M. G. Rixes.

Congregational Church Cadet Corps Rehearse For 'Vaudeville 'Stuntisserie,' Set for April 22

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CADET CORPS, FOR THE BENEFIT OF WHICH THE STUNTISSENE WILL BE HELD.

Interest manifested in the coming "stuntisserie" is composed of L. N. Cole-Wirt, in the corps has been productive of the best results and he is now devoting his time to the making of the coming entertainment a great success. The program for the "stuntisserie" on April 22 is as follows:

The Jordini Quartet, late of Ventore's Royal Ballet band, phenomenal performers upon cornet and trombone; the prominent violin teacher; Rev. Mr. Loyal L. Wirt, assistant master of church and captain of the corps; and

Vine Hunter, a dramatic instructor, who will manage the stage and player features of the entertainment.

Alexander Stewart is arranging for the talent and as is evident from the audience program which has already been circulated he has obtained a large number of prominent and high class professionals from both this side of the bay and San Francisco.

The corps talent will not be the only talent used. The committee in charge of the affair has decided that the corps should be given a more elaborate program than this occasion and no pains and money have been spared to elicit the aid of several of the most prominent professionals in Alameda county.

work of the Rev. Mr. Loyal L. Wirt in the corps has been productive of the best results and he is now devoting his time to the making of the coming entertainment a great success. The program for the "stuntisserie" on April 22 is as follows:

The Jordini Quartet, late of Ventore's Royal Ballet band, phenomenal performers upon cornet and trombone; the prominent violin teacher; Rev. Mr. Loyal L. Wirt, assistant master of church and captain of the corps; and

Vine Hunter, a dramatic instructor, who will manage the stage and player features of the entertainment.

Alexander Stewart is arranging for the talent and as is evident from the audience program which has already been circulated he has obtained a large number of prominent and high class professionals from both this side of the bay and San Francisco.

The corps talent will not be the only talent used. The committee in charge of the affair has decided that the corps should be given a more elaborate program than this occasion and no pains and money have been spared to elicit the aid of several of the most prominent professionals in Alameda county.
